

Ribbons-101 with Royer's John Jennings

When: Monday January 1/18/21 at 12:00pm PST

Where: Register at the Royer virtual Booth or under the Full Schedule tab

Why do ribbon microphones “hear like your ears?” What makes ribbons sound “warm and natural?” Why is it that certain instruments record so well on ribbon mics?

Ribbons-101, a class given hundreds of times around the world in recording schools and studios, uses illustrations and sound samples to teach WHY ribbon mics do what they do. Learn what goes into modern ribbon mics and the many different ways they can be used to make exceptional recordings.

Electric Guitars & Ribbon Mics, with Tim Pierce & Rick Beato

When: Wednesday January 1/20/21 at 11:00am PST

Where: Register at the Royer virtual Booth or under the Full Schedule tab

Legendary LA Session Guitarist Tim Pierce and Producer/Engineer/YouTuber Rick Beato demonstrate how they use ribbon microphones to record electric guitars. Rick & Tim have deep recording backgrounds and many hit recordings to their credits, and they're friends who are always fun to hang with when they get together! Topics covered will be the guitars, amps and recording gear they use, and their choice of ribbon mics and how they position their ribbons on guitar cabs. Come join us for a good time and watch two industry pros open up about how they use ribbon microphones to get the best sounding electric guitar recordings possible.

2:00 pm Happy Hour with John Jennings and Special Guest

Where: Royer virtual Booth

At 2 o'clock on Friday, it's time for another Happy hour. Royer's John Jennings will be sharing a drink with Producer/Engineer Richard Chycki. Richard was one of the earliest engineers to use an R-121 on heavy rock guitars while he was recording Aerosmith's Just Push Play, and he has recorded a number of other great records. Hanging with him is always a fun time, so stop by here for some good stories and to ask any questions you have for Richard in our chat. We'll give away a Royer pint glass too. You can enter that giveaway on our virtual page.
